NEWS OF KANSAS.

Two Prisoners Escape from the Saline County Jail.

They Dig Through the Floor of the Corridor.

OTHER STATE NEWS.

The K. U. Athletic Election Was an Exciting One.

SALINA, Oct. 4.—Two prisoners by the names of John S. Johnson and Henry Dickey, escaped from the Saline county jail yesterday by cutting a hole through the floor of the corridor and passing through under the building to an opening in the rear. Johnson was in for stealing horses and Dickey is the young man implicated in the stealing of a number of bicycles in Saline county. Dickey had been in jail over a year.

Johnson is a desperate character and last night while they were making their escape, he threatened the other inmates that if they stirred he would kill them. No alarm was therefore given until they had made their escape.

AN EXCITING COLLEGE ELECTION. The Harbs and the Faculty Factions at K. U. Are Neither Victorious.

LAWRENCE, Oct. 4.—The most exciting school-boy political battle that ever occurred at Kansas university was a contest over the election of the board of directors of the Athletic association for the coming year. There were two tickets, one chosen by a secret "barb" caucus and another put up by an opposing faction, called the faculty faction. The tickets were printed ones and the voting took place in the afternoon and was not completed till night. Then it was found that neither side had been victorious.

The faculty faction elected three men as against four on the "barb" ticket, the balance of the men being on both tickets. The following is the ticket elected: Football committee, Hector Cowan, E. I. Steinberger; baseball committee, Lawrence Chamberlain, James Kelsey; Track Athletic committee, Warren Pope, Clyde Wilson; tennis committee, H. L. Maxwell, Irving Hill; boating committee, J. P. Chasler, J. B. Cracraft; member-at-large, Hugh Meane. This board will elect the president and secretary of the association.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 4.—A lively barn, owned by Israel Markley and occupied by Stewart Bros. with a small livestock, burned, with all its contents, consisting of nine horses and three hogs. This is the fifth barn that has burned in this city during the past nine months and every livestock in the city, with the exception of one, has gone up in flames, together with thirty-five or forty head of horses. The fires were all undoubtedly of incendiary origin.

The loss of last night's fire is about $2,500, without a dollar of insurance.

ON THE BALLOT.

The Initiative and Referendum Ticket Will Be There—Populist Comment.

The committee of the Initiative and Referendum league, composed of W. H. Bennington, Asa Bunn and C. H. Black, filed their state ticket with the secretary of state today.

The Australian ballot law provides that if 500 voters sign a petition requesting that a candidate be placed on the ticket, it is the duty of the secretary to notify the different county clerks to place the name on the official ticket. No state convention will be held, and the nominations are made by filing the petitions. The ticket filed is as follows:

W. H. Bennington, Topeka, associate justice; Cyrus Corning, Topeka, governor; M. A. Pratt, Wichita, lieutenant governor; Alex. Young, Pittsburg, auditor; H. A. White, Augusta, attorney general; S. T. Cherry, Parsons, treasurer; Fred Anthony, Leavenworth, secretary of state; Mrs. Etta Sample, Ottawa, superintendent.

W. H. Bennington says that White, the candidate for attorney general, is a ticket log and that if he would accept the nomination the committee will fill the place. The ticket will be known as "The Populist State Ticket," while the regular Populist ticket will be headed "People's Party State Ticket," on the official ballot.

The candidates will make a campaign and it will formally open in Topeka early next week by Ben S. Henderson and W. H. Bennington. Henderson will go out in the field for the new ticket.

Chairman Breidenbach was asked by a Journal reporter what effect the new ticket will have in the state election.

"It will make us 5,000 votes. That is all," replied he. "When the Republicans find out that this committee over here is hiring men by the month to do this kind of business they will be disgusted and they are nearly as now with the kind of a campaign they are carrying on."

Superintendent Gaines said: "The ticket will get 100 votes. I do not believe that it will get any more and at any rate it will not hurt the Populist state ticket."

Annie L. Diggs, who is in the city, said when she heard the ticket had been filed: "Well I'll declare isn't that nice. I believe the Republican voters are becoming tired of this kind of a campaign. I saw a Republican this week take a copy of the Capital and tear it in two when he saw the title. King Kinsler said he was tired of those kinds of lies and what he wanted was something he could believe. That is the way the people feel out in the state."

"The ticket will have no effect on the result in the election."

WHITCOMB RILEY'S BOOK.

The Poet's Latest Venture Is a Novel Named "Armazindy."

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 4.—James Whitcomb Riley, with Dr. Hays of this city, has been spending several weeks in Tennessee and North Carolina. In relation to his visit he said:

"I took the trip merely as a companion to Dr. Hays. We had an excellent time and thoroughly enjoyed ourselves. We spent our time mostly in the mountains of Tennessee and North Carolina and found the mountaineers to be a very hospitable and kindly disposed people, though they inspect new comers very closely and are very reticent till an acquaintanceship springs up. Of course, a traveler in those districts must conform strictly to the unwritten regulations and rules, or it might become unhealthy. We were not naturally of a prying disposition, didn't endeavor to investigate any moonshine plants, and were very polite and affable at all times, and so we soon got on friendly terms."

"I was called 'Bud' by the mountaineers, which title seems to be used instead of 'mister,' and all strangers are addressed as 'Bud.' I want to get back to Indianapolis to look after the publication of my new book 'Armazindy,' a dialect story."

FIFTY BODIES WASH UP.

They Are Evidently Those of Sailors Lost in the Hurricane.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 4.—A special from Key West says that fifty dead bodies victims of the wrecks occurring on the reefs during the recent storms have been washed ashore on the islands around Key West. The dead, it is stated, are evidently sailors from the vessels destroyed, although the length of time which has elapsed since the storm has rendered the bodies unidentifiable through decomposition. The probabilities are that many more of these ghastly evidences of the hurricane's fury will be brought to light in a few days.

WON'T PROSECUTE KLINE.

Attorney General Little Says Kline and Legate Will Not Be Prosecuted.

It has been reported that the Populists intended to commence criminal prosecution against Pete Kline, Neils Acers and J. F. Legate.

Attorney General Little said, when asked about the truth of the report: "It is not true, or at least I know nothing about it. I do not intend to pay any attention to these blackmailers. They are simply assassins of character, and do not merit the notice of decent men."

REFUSED THE COMPLAINT.

County Attorney Safford Wouldn't Grant One to a Disgraced Supplient.

A man with a deep cut that extended diagonally across his forehead and disappeared somewhere in his tangled hair, and who also had his right arm in a sling, asked County Attorney Safford today for a complaint for the arrest of George Gatton for assault.

The stranger said he was drunk last night and that Gatton hit him a number of times with a neck yoke. Gatton is known as a bad man.

County Attorney Safford refused to grant the complaint, saying the stranger, who didn't give his name, brought no evidence to prove that a conviction could be had in the case.

BRYAN TICKET LEGAL.

Nebraska Secretary of State Decides Against the Bolters.

LINCOLN, Oct. 4.—Secretary of State Allen handed down his opinion in the Democratic ticket contest case this morning. It is known the bolters' ticket out of the field and the names on that document can only be placed on the regular ballot by petition and under some other heading than Democratic. The protest of ex-State Chairman Martin will have a hearing on Monday, but the question is considered settled unless there is an appeal to the courts.

Judge Shilling gave notice of an appeal on behalf of the administration people.

The decision says: "It appears that the Democratic fusion convention not only did assemble at the time and place named in the call, but that ex-Chairman Martin called such convention to order and otherwise participated in the proceedings and recognized such convention, which proceeded to make nominations."

"There was but one call for a Democratic convention, and under that call but one regularly constituted convention such as is contemplated by the statute can in my opinion be assembled. I therefore must decline to place the bolters' ticket on the official ballot."

BLAKELY-TAYLOR CASE.

It Is Now in the Supreme Court—Superior Refused.

Judge Crozier of Leavenworth applied to the supreme court today for a super-sedeas to prevent Joseph Blakely from taking the office of county treasurer of Leavenworth county. The writ was refused. The court, however, advanced the hearing on appeal to the November term.

The case is interesting and involves the validity of the Australian ballot law. The question is whether a voter can mark any place except in the square for that purpose and have his ballot counted.

In the election there was a tie between the Republican nominee, Blakely, and the Democrat, John F. Taylor. Lots were drawn and Taylor won. The case was taken to a contest court on the ground of illegal votes and a decision for Blakely was made, but upon a rehearing the court reversed itself and gave the place to Taylor. The case was then taken to the district court and a decision for Blakely was given. The case was then appealed to the supreme court.

The Republican claimant is represented by W. C. Hoop, L. Baker and W. A. Porter, the Democrat by Judge Robert Crozier, Thomas P. Fenlon, J. H. Atwood, and L. B. and S. E. Wheat.

Stapleton resented an objectionable editorial by Williams' club, and Williams attempted to draw a gun and Stapleton held his arm until a policeman appeared and arrested Williams on a charge of creating a disturbance.

PLOT TO KILL THE SULTAN.

Two Turks Had Bombs All Ready to Attack Him.

Two Turks embarked on board the Messagerie maritime steamer Djennan at Alouche, having in their possession cartridges and materials for the construction of bombs.

In addition a quantity of dynamite was found concealed in their baggage. The men were arrested and confessed that they intended to make an attempt upon the sultan's life. The prisoners were handed over to the authorities.

HILL TO DECIDE SOON.

Says He May Have a Statement to Make Before Returning to Albany.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Senator Hill was in good spirits when he met an Associated Press reporter at Democratic headquarters in the Park Avenue hotel today. He predicted the success of his party at the November elections and intimated that he was prepared to do his utmost to bring about the result.

"I always get in my hardest work on the home stretch," he said.

Replying to the rumor that he would make a way for Judge Gaynor at the head of the state ticket he said with a smile and a deprecating wave of the hand: "I must be excused if I decline to say anything on that subject." Nor would he say whether or not he had seen Mr. Gaynor, or any representative of that gentleman yesterday.

Before terminating the interview Senator Hill said he might have a statement to make before his return to Albany which he thought would be in a day or two. Upon his return to this city he will probably take rooms at the Park Avenue Hotel so as to be right on the scene of action.
